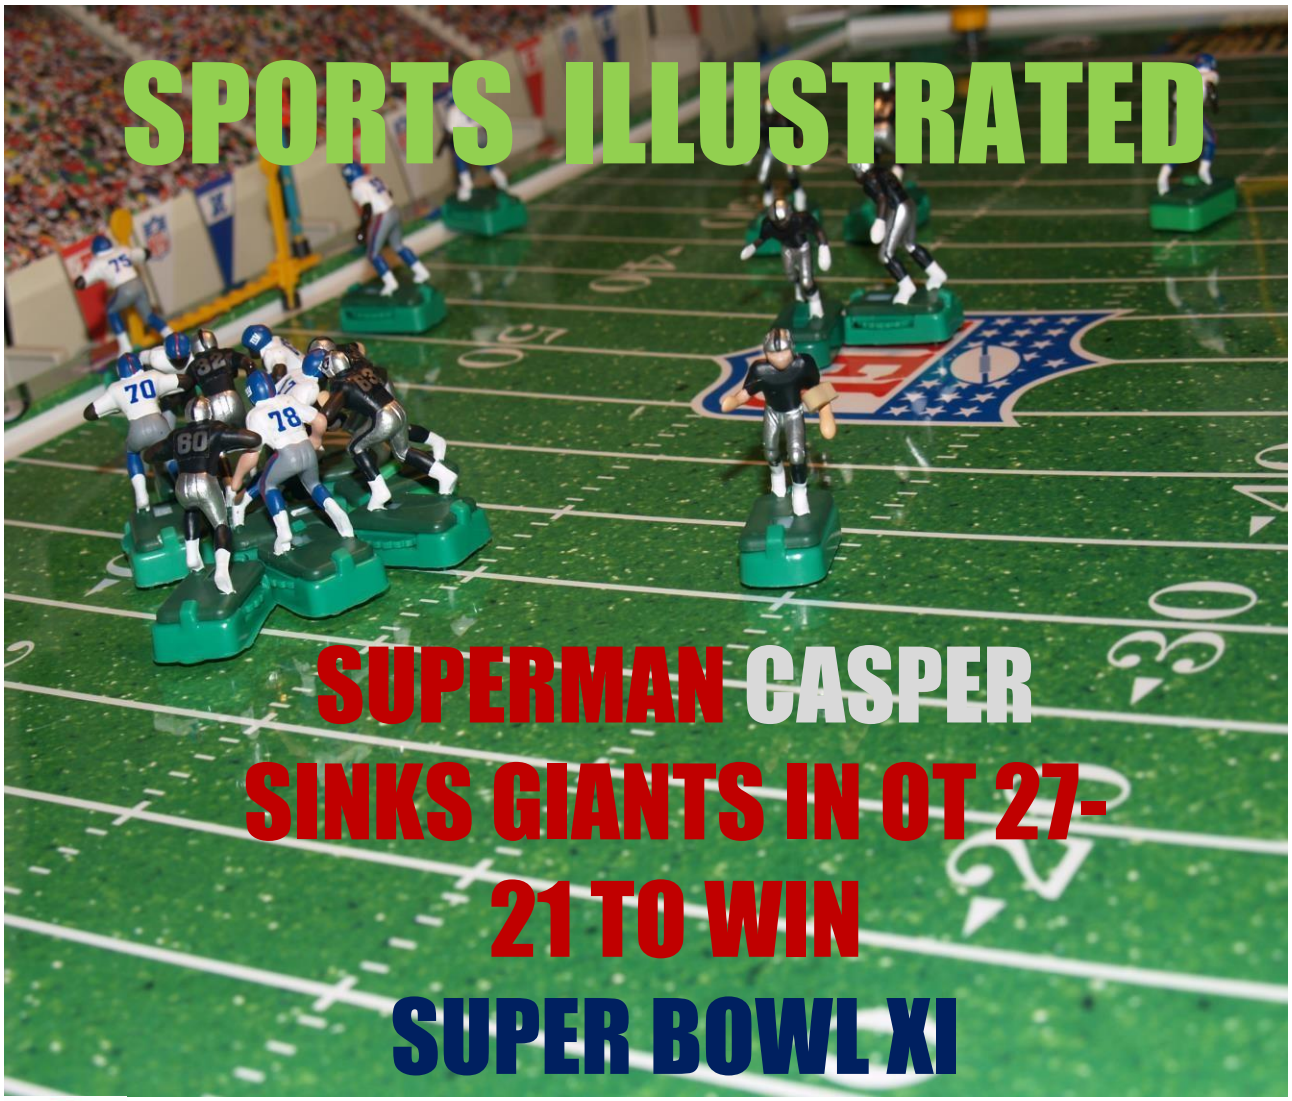
OAKLAND RAIDERS VS NEW YORK GIANTS

SUPER BOWL XI



Super Bowl XI MVP Dave Casper runs for his second 100-yard KR for a TD, this one at 22 seconds in OT as the Oakland Raiders win Super Bowl XI 27-21 in beating the New York Giants! Casper had 349 all-purpose yards and two touchdowns in the game.

(Pasadena, California) July 12, 2008. Oh Baby! What a way to celebrate a franchise win! The last time the Raiders appeared in a Super Bowl was in 1976, losing 20-19 to the Chicago Bears in Long Island EFL Super Bowl II.

SUPER BOWL XI

In spectacular fashion, Long Island's Electric Football League Super Bowl XI, ended the same way it began, with fireworks galore! The league's #15-Ranked Oakland Raiders (9-1) (75-70 All-Time), had a comeback season with the new Draft, and these Raiders were built to perform. This was no easy task for Oakland as they faced one of the best defenses in the LIEFL in the LIEFL #9Ranked New York Giants (7-4) (81-70 All-Time).

One great player that came out of the Draft was Tight End Dave Casper. Casper came into Super Bowl XI as the AFC Championship Game MVP after beating the LIEFL #29-Ranked Baltimore Ravens (5-4) (29-28 All-Time), 14-7, in the AFC Divisional Game, and then they edged the LIEFL #24-Ranked New England Patriots (6-3) (62-76), 17-14, in the AFC Championship Game to get here. He had 166 yards and four receiving touchdowns before the Raiders switched it up and made him their return man and specialist, and boy, did it pay off! This new West-Coast style of play in the Long Island Electric Football League set a new trend around the league and changed the way we play our games. We no longer relied on the one-person offensive weapon in the star running back. The Raiders went three-dimensional as a threat with their running and passing attack with two great receivers in Brown and Casper, and Allen at running back.

This season, because of new Drafts and restructuring of the league, we could not predict who would make the Super Bowl, but the season was so exciting because the Miami Dolphins reign of domination as a force in the league ended when they lost to the Baltimore Ravens 21-17, in the AFC Wild Card Game. There is a new sheriff in town for this year called the Oakland Raiders!

The Giants found the spark to a fiery offense by beating the LIEFL #16-Ranked Detroit Lions (6-3) (66-72 All-Time), 45-35, in the NFC Championship Game to advance to Super Bowl XI. New York only allowed 55 points this season as the #2 defense, tied with the AFC Indianapolis Colts. In this game Giants linebacker Lawrence Taylor shut down the Raider running game, holding Oakland to 35 yards on the ground behind a defense led by Leonard Marshall, George Martin, and Michael Strahan. But the Raiders had the best defense in the NFL allowing only 35 points all season and that statistic proved true to their defense.

In the first quarter the Raiders led 7-0 when Oakland's Dave Casper took the opening kick-off 100 yards for the touchdown!

Long Island Electric Football League's Oakland's Dave Casper opens the game with a scorching 100-yard Kick-return statement to the NFC Champion New York Giants that they came to play.

The Giants came back at 9:58 in the second quarter with a 44-yard touchdown pass from Giants Quarterback Eli Manning to Plaxico Burris as the Giants tied the game at 7-7. An incomplete pass attempt by Raider Quarterback Ken Stabler to Tim Brown sailed over Brown's head an into the hands of Giants star defender Ahman Bradshaw as the Giants landed the ball at the Raider 35 yard line where the Raider front line led by Otis Sistrunk, Gene Upshaw, and Lyle Alzado stopped the Giants from scoring as the New York missed a field goal attempt to go ahead at the half.

In the third quarter, #5 in the NFC and #13 in the LIEFL in rushing, Tiki Barber 51-364-6, behind that Big Blue offensive line, had a terrific day rushing for 130 yards against the number one defense in the NFL. Barber scored two touchdowns in the game and he has that run over left tackle down to a science. At one point in the third quarter it looked like the Giants were driving the momentum as they led 14-7 on a Barber 33-yard touchdown run at 6:00 into the quarter. Oakland couldn't score in the third quarter, but they played tight defense leaving all the excitement to the fourth quarter with the Giants ahead 14-7. What a game!

Oakland's Tim Brown's key touchdown reception for 34 yards tied the game in the fourth quarter at 14-14!

Somehow the Raiders stormed back in the fourth quarter marching down field as Stabler connected with Tim Brown on a 34-yard touchdown pass at 1:40 in the fourth to tie the game 14-14! The Giants answered with another touchdown on a pass from Manning to the Giants All-Pro Back Barber as the Giants had the go-ahead touchdown at 10:28 in the fourth to take the lead 21-14! The excitement was mounting building into the final minute of Super Bowl XI.

The Giants took their last time out at 14:42 with the Raiders driving and the Raiders Kenny Stabler was set to pass. The very next and last play of the game Raider Quarterback Ken Stabler threw a missile to Raider Fullback Mark van Eagan who dashed in for a 48-yard touchdown pass sending Long Island Electric Football's Super Bowl XI into overtime!

Long Island Electric Football League's New York Giants Ahman Bradshaw's special teams effort was not enough to beat Oakland!

This Super Bowl spectacular was blazing in the last minute of the game as the Oakland Raiders won the coin toss in overtime. In Overtime the Raider defenders and that front three cleared the way and it appeared as though the Giants would stop Raider return man Dave Casper, but he broke free at the 50 yard line and BUZZZZZED upfield for an incredible game crushing Super Bowl XI victory, in one of the most dramatic finishes in LIEFL Super Bowl history!

Oakland's Casper penciled his name into the Long Island Electric Football League history books, making history with his hundred yard kick return for a touchdown to open Super Bowl XI, and then closed the game with the game winning hundred yard kick return touchdown at 22 seconds in overtime as the Oakland Raiders defeated the NFC Wild Card New York Giants 27-21, to win their first ever Super Bowl! Casper finished the day with 349 all-purpose yards in the game and was voted the game's MVP!

The Oakland Raiders (9-1) will be back on the attack next season to beat up on the AFC! The New Giants (7-4) can prepare for another battle next season! This season was an eye-opener and the next Draft will change our league forever as the league would go into hiatus and lay dormant until 2016 where we pick up an intense pace and run four consecutive seasons. 2016 saw the Detroit Lions win LIEFL Super Bowl XII, the Buffalo Bills win LIEFL Super Bowl XIII, and the Los Angeles Rams, the new frontier of LIEFL win back-to-back titles in Super Bowl XIV, and Super Bowl XV.
